

Drug allergies in the US are RARELY verified with allergy testing, but YOU can help doctors learn more about drug allergy because you are seeing a US Drug Allergy Registry (USDAR)-affiliated allergist

YOU may not be allergic to all of the drugs you thought you were. We want to know how this allergy information may change your medical care in the future.

YOU may be allergic to other medications. We want to understand WHY you are allergic and how this affects your medical care in order to advance diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of drug allergy.

Let your allergist know that YOU want to be part of the USDAR.

Thank you!
